Meds Blast Donolo

Appeal To Senate To Remit 40pc Of Society Fees

by Robert Amaron

A special meeting of the MUS yesterday unanimously deplored the "grossly undemocratic" conduct of the President of the Students' Society. Leaving the Union immediately after the abortive Students' Society meeting, the Meds gathered — some 400 strong — in the Medical Building.

A second resolution, calling upon the Senate and Board of Governors of McGill to exempt each year members of the Faculty of Medicine from payment of 40% of their Students' Society fees was also passed unanimously. This sum is to be directly remitted to the executive of the MUS.

The meeting convened about 2 pm and after a short discussion as to whether outsiders would be permitted to remain, a resolution deploring the conduct of Donolo and the SEC was presented. A series of amendments, including one to condemn Students' Society Vice-president Stuart Smith for attempting to exert undue influence on the meeting, were proposed and discussed at length.

The final decision to limit the resolution to the conduct of the chairman of the Students' Society was based on the argument that only Donolo was acting in an official capacity. The others were acting as individuals.

Donolo Censured

Principal grounds for complaint against Donolo were that he illegally tried to limit debate; that he permitted students not actually present in the Ballroom to vote, particularly on the question as to whether they would continue to be allowed to vote; and finally that he illegally dissolved the meeting without a properly passed motion to adjourn.

The second resolution regarding an appeal to the Senate was then placed on the floor. Amendments to make the resolution read "each year" and "40%" instead of "$6" were adopted but a suggested amendment asking the Senate to consider Medicine as a graduate faculty was rejected.

After both resolutions had won unanimous approval, Mosher left the chair to address the house on the state of MUS funds.

The MUS finally decided to raise immediately necessary cash by printing and selling MUS membership cards. The meeting adjourned about 4:30 pm.

1500 STUDENTS PACK UNION; PROCEEDINGS BROADCAST OVER P.A. SYSTEM

by Donna Irony and Peter Rehak

A near riot ended a meeting of the Students' Society yesterday. Some 1500 students jammed the Union to capacity to hear the debate on proposed Medical Undergraduate Society amendments to the Students' Society constitution which would increase the annual grant to the MUS from $1 to $6 per student.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 1 pm, but from then until its adjournment at 2 pm, it proceeded with little semblance of any order. Although slated to begin at 1 pm, the ballroom was well-filled by early arrivals from the medical faculty by 12:30. They had their lectures cancelled from 12 to 3:30 pm. By the time students in the other faculties began arriving at 1 pm, the ballroom had been filled, and the overflow spilled into the Union lounge, lobby and cafeteria and spread onto the stairs. These students were kept in touch with the proceedings in the ballroom by the Union Public Address system. Their votes were taken by show of hands, counted by Scarlet Key and Red Wing members stationed throughout the building.

Crampton Helms, MUS Vice-President, put forward a motion to limit any voting taken to students in the ballroom proper, based on the wording of the announcement calling a Students' Society meeting to be held "in the Union Ballroom," published in the McGill Daily. The motion was defeated by a vote of 664 to 453. This vote included all of the Students' Society members in the Union.

The next half-hour of the meeting was punctuated by various points of order, privilege, and decency, and other dilatory tactics, engaged in by supporters of both sides of the issue. Applause and other disturbances further hampered progress, leading the chairman to issue several calls for order.

Donolo Calls For Referendum

David Freedman, BA 4, presented the Med motion, stating that although he was not in favor of it, he wished to put the motion on before students would be forced to leave to attend afternoon lectures.

A motion to put the motion was then introduced, and a vote was taken on this without debate. Garth Mosher, MUS President, pointed out that in order to be passed, a motion to put a motion requires a 2/3 majority. The result of the vote was 952 in favor and 503 opposed. The chairman made an error in his initial calculations and stated that the motion had been carried with the required 2/3. The error was pointed out shortly afterwards, and the chairman called for speakers on the motion from the floor.

Garth Mosher, Med. 4, was the first speaker. Before he began, the Chair issued a final warning to the effect that any further disturbance from the assemblage would lead to the dissolution of the meeting. "We came here today, Mr. Chairman, to correct an injustice which certain individuals feel the passage of time has somehow sanctified and rendered inviolate," Mosher began.

He was able to continue little further before being interrupted by shouts for a vote to be taken from outside of the Ballroom. At this point the Chairman issued another warning, and the clamor subsided; only to recur shortly later in Mosher's speech, and Donolo was forced to dissolve the meeting.

Various challenges from the Meds to the ruling of the Chair were unsuccessful. The Medical students stayed on proposing to hold their own meeting in the ballroom, but finally agreed on a continuation to take place in the Medical Building.

Editorials

A Plague On Both Your Houses

Yesterday the fine reputation of the Students' Society took a beating. The worst elements of the human condition came to the fore and we were treated to some elementary examples of mob psychology, rabble-rousing and complete disregard for principles of fair play.

Our fears that factionalism would make the issue difficult to debate came through in the most dramatic manner possible. Upon the shoulders of the leadership of the MUS and the SEC lie complete responsibility for yesterday's futile display. The former deliberately irresponsible, the latter by lack of foresight.

We blame the MUS because they came with admitted intentions of playing power politics. He who plays with fire should expect similar fare in return — this is exactly what happened yesterday. When every fine constitutional point is used to defend a position, when points of order and information are submitted ad infinitum, motives become suspect. Cushing's manual, which was quoted from quite freely at the meeting, says: "The great purpose of all rules and forms is to subserve the will of the assembly, rather than to restrain it; to facilitate, and not to obstruct, the expression of their deliberate sense". The conditions at yesterday's meeting were not such as to allow the will of the assembly (the Students' Society) to be properly expressed. It is the spirit of the law rather than the letter of the law that really counts. The Meds' attempt to limit debate to the 600 persons in the ballroom to the exclusion of the 1000 in the rest of the Union was manifestly unfair. Donolo's action in ignoring this claim as well as his decision to terminate the debate were entirely justified in terms of the above formula. In an extremely volatile meeting he tried at all times to be fair.

Our quarrel with the SEC leadership is on tactical grounds only. It was an error of judgment not to match their real concern over the outcome of this issue with practical arrangements to facilitate a fair debate. An attempt should have been made to procure the gym for the meeting. Furthermore, once the meeting had got underway, it was patently evident that conditions for a reasonable debate were lacking. An early decision to stop the meeting though admittedly a difficult step to take, would have spared us the ludicrous but acrimonious debacle that resulted.

Vivid pictures of the blank unreason of the meeting remain with us — the posters of the MUS controlling the factional vote with robot-like precision; the filibustering tactics of the Meds which had the double effect of casting doubts on the fairness of their case and of alienating many a student who had come with open mind to listen to the pros and cons of the issue; the arrogance of the President of the MUS who was mouthing unprintable remarks in a loud voice, and who threw threats at the Chairman from time to time; the action of the vice-president of the MUS who deliberately cut off the address system and proudly admitted it afterwards to the meeting. These are the same Med students who have been pressing their claim for special consideration partly on the ground that they are more mature and have no time for the activities of the "children" of the lower campus. We question their maturity. This is not to say that the behaviour of the rest of the students was a model of decorum but it was clear that the rowdiness that developed in the whole meeting was the result of the tactics of the incensed medics.

The sad part of all this is that neither side seems to have learnt much. The Meds held another meeting of their own in which they maintained the extreme position; they have remained blind to the injustice of their own attempts to railroad the issue through the Society. The SEC decided later to put the motion to the campus as a referendum. This would hardly suffice — it is not the sort of question that admits of a straight yes or no answer. The issue is too important and technical to be given such short shrift. We understand that both parties are asking the Senate to arbitrate; this is the only feasible way out.

For the record we think the best summing up of the failure of reason and democracy — a word that was liberally used and abused yesterday — was made by John Saranuk, the Union janitor. As he was cleaning up the physical mess in the ballroom after the meeting he was heard to mutter, "Education, hell! No wonder we are behind the Russians with Sputnik".

Painted Opinions

Well-equipped Meds brought signs with them in anticipation of pushing their issue through. Supporters signalled from the front of the ballroom how to vote and behave.

Charities Drive Sponsors Professors' Panel Debate

The Professors' Panel which was scheduled to take place in the Union last night has been postponed until tomorrow noon, at which time the same panelists will debate in the Union Ballroom on the effects of automation on our modern society. The topic, as announced is, "Will Automation Reach Education?"

The panel will consist of Dr. G.E. LeDain, Assistant Professor of Law, Dean D.L. Mordell, of the Faculty of Engineering, Dr. W.H. Pugsley, Assistant Professor of the School of Commerce, and Dr. G.A. Vallillee, Assistant Professor of Classics.

The informal discussion, sponsored by Combined Charities, will be chaired by Stu Smith, President of the Union.

Students who like to indulge in the fine old collegiate custom of "Going for coffee", or coffee breakmanship as it has been termed, will have their day in the sun tomorrow at the Union. The traditional plea of "Gotta dime for a cup of coffee?" will wear a new twist as the coffee will revert to the person with the dime. In short, coffee and doughnuts will be present in abundance at the Dunk-a-Donut Day, which will run from ten till three tomorrow in the Union lounge. Proceeds will go to Combined Charities.

Tickets for Saturday night's Cabaret Revue will go on sale today at the Combined Charities office in the basement of the Union. Tickets are two dollars a couple, and tables for four or eight may be reserved.

Group captains are reminded that the first group captain to get all his envelopes in to the Combined Charities office will receive two free tickets to the Cabaret Saturday night. The dance will be held in the Union Ballroom.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF REFERENDUM

Louis Donolo, President of the Students' Society, issued a statement to the DAILY last night, announcing a referendum which was voted on at a special meeting of the Students' Executive Council following yesterday's Students' Society meeting.

The following is the text of the issued statement.

In sincerity, I should like to thank those 1500 students who sacrificed an hour of their time to attend yesterday's Students' Society meeting. It is regrettable that all the students could not meet in one room and that the resulting conflicts led to a situation which made it necessary to dissolve the meeting.

In view of the strong sentiments held by both sides, it seems difficult to hold another meeting where a similar situation may arise. However in fairness to the medical students who petitioned for the amendment, the Students' Executive Council will put the motion to a general student referendum.

This referendum will be held on Wednesday, November 13, 1957.

Louis Donolo
President, Students' Society

The Daily thanks members of the McGill Radio Workshop for their assistance in covering yesterday's Students' Society meeting.

U Of M Professor To Speak Today

Professor Thomas Greenwood, head of the Department of English Studies at the University of Montreal will speak before the U.N. Club on "The Social and Political Progress of Turkey" at 1 pm today in the Walter Stewart Room. Dr. Greenwood, 30 years ago, travelled extensively through Turkey. Recently he returned to Turkey, observing the great and numerous changes in that country. As a result he started a series of interesting articles for the Montreal Star.

Dr. Greenwood was English professor at London University and at Ottawa University before taking his post at the University of Montreal. He has visited almost every country in the world, and has attended lectures in foreign countries during the summer.

Physio vs Phys Ed In Broomball Bowl

Today at 1 pm Dr. Roscoe will drop a volleyball at the opening face-off of the Powder Puff Bowl. The game, symbolic of the broomball supremacy of the campus, will see a hard-driving Physio squad try to avenge their humiliating 5-0 defeat in last year's classic.

Coached by Redman John Tilley, and led by Myrna Ruddick, Jackie Dear, Joan McKnight, Joan Rossetti, and Wendy Finlayson, the Physios will be featuring a fast wide-open brand of broomball. The Phys Ed girls, paced by last year's stars, Betty Alexander, Barb Cope, Di Matheson, and Nadia Pavylchenko, will be counting on tight, compact teamwork as the best of all possible defenses.

Sponsored by Combined Charities, the event will run the regulation forty minutes. However, the sawed-off regulation brooms will not see service. Instead, a longer, softer-haired domestic broom will be used.

A rumor, apparently left over from Halloween, to the effect that the losers will ride their brooms back to R.V.C. has been completely denied by spokesmen from both sides.

Arts And Science Take Swim Meet

Cameron Grout swam his faculty to victory today in the intramural swim meet as he scored 25 points, broke two records and helped to break a third for the Arts and Sciencemen. The 25 points he scored was more than one third of his faculty's 73 and was 5 better than the number the second place Meds compiled. Third on the slate were Eng. with 5 while Phys. Ed and Dents shared fourth place with 2 points apiece.

The new records set by Grout were in the 50 yd. free stroke with a time of 24.5 and the 100 yd. free stroke with a time of 54.6. The third record set was a team effort of the Arts and Sciencemen as they beat the 100 yd free style relay with a time of 49.6 sec.

Another stalwart member of the Artsmen was Warman Castle who scored three first places for 15 points, to arrive second in the individual scoring race.

The first places were picked up as follows:

75 yd. Medley Relay ASUS 41.0 sec.
50 yd. Backstroke Grout ASUS 31.7,
50 yd. Breast stroke Castle ASUS 37.7,

Women's Sports

Fencing 7:15-10 pm
